May 10th Meeting Recap

OPENING: Fred Gawlick opened the meeting with an invocation after Michael and Sam played God Bless America.

CLUB DRAWING: Chas Eldridge won the drawing. The gift was provided by Bob Ciapponi and included a very generous gift certificate from Crow's Nest.

DETECTIVE REPORT:

Sam Bishop put us through a rigorous marketing test on old and new consumer brand jingles. He included Brylcream (Don't need it, can't spell it), and other famous tag lines from great brands. Sam's report was sponsored by Procter & Gamble.

Program:

Grand Slam Program!

Debbie introduced Richard Hoover from Santa Cruz Guitar Company. Richard is the founder of the company and took us through all kinds of interesting facts about what makes the best wood for musical instruments. He brought examples and you could really tell the difference in sound.

Richard is super passionate about his craft and that passion came out in his delivery. It was very well delivered and it's obvious Richard loves to talk about his company even though he feels nervous in front of a crowd. The shop is open for tours if you'd like to see how the instruments are made. You can arrange to see the shop by calling in advance for Thursday or Friday tours.

I found it interesting that Richard has no secrets about their processes. They operate as completely open source artisans. Their success is born from passion for the work, not secrets of production.

Rotary Raffle

There are a few open opportunities for raffle donations. See Masi Bayless to sign up and host a prize.
