Today's Program

From Rotary to Italy

Teresa Pane Mohamed

Teresa Pane Mohamed is a wife, mother and grandmother. She was the grateful recipient of a Rotary Club fellowship for the academic year 1979/80 where she obtained her master's degree in Florence, Italy. She has taught Italian at the college level for the past 35 years and has maintained relationships that she formed in college in Italy many years ago. She travels there regularly and has continued to deepen her knowledge of the language, history and culture of Italy and of all things Italian. She wishes to share some of her Italian adventures with you!

September 20 Recap

It is always a great joy to hear from young adults pursuing their careers. The vocational scholarships are a small commitment from Rotary that goes a long way in helping such individuals achieve their ultimate goal of landing a job in the vocation that they are studying for.

The funds for the vocational scholarships are paid out of the Rotary Endowment. For the fiscal year ended June 30, 2019, the Endowment gave $8,500 in funds specifically for vocational scholarships. In case you were wondering, your sustaining member contributions are the main source of new funding for the Endowment. Investment income is the second source of funding that allows us to continue this scholarship program.

My favorite part of the meeting every year is when we are blessed as a group to hear the musicians play their instruments and sing songs as a way of saying thank you to Rotary for walking along side them.

Let us not forget the advisors to these students who spend countless hours behind the scenes with these scholarship winners. This is true service above self!

Last, but not least, please take a moment to thank Michael Harrison, if you haven't already, for leading this amazing committee.

Miscellaneous

It's been a while since I last commented on sports. This is the last week of regular season baseball. It was an emotional roller coaster for Giants fans a couple of months ago, but the dust has settled, and they are who we thought they were. However, they did manage to get Bochy his 2,000th win of his career. Now we can focus on the real team in the area and hopefully watch the A's make some noise in the playoffs now that their pitching rotation is back to full health!
