Rotary Connects the World

Detective - Annie Asche

Membership: Ross “the king” Condit has proposed Bradley Olin for membership. Any member comments must be made to the Club Secretary within 7 days.

Invocation: Stoney “I walked a thousand miles” Brook read us a verse from the book of Hallmark “Blessings of peace and the joy of family are gifts of the holiday season.” Hallmark verses tend to take the words out of our mouths but no one ever laid a verse down the way Stoney did that day.

Raffle: A trend is a prevailing tendency or inclination. Our Rotary Club has a trend of rewarding guests. This week the lucky winner of our raffle was Kasey “my wife is a winner” Hinchman’s guest. She won a feeling of accomplishment, a gush of excitement, a story to tell, a gift card to take his friends to Sabieng Thai Cuisine and a delicious pinot noir to share with her friends.

Announcements: This being the last meeting of the year our President Ross took the chance to point out a few exemplary Rotarians. He expressed gratitude to: Donna “mermaid” Maurillo for her work in organizing beach cleanups, Jeannette “officer” Pagliaro for leading the Avenue of Flags project, John “chef” and Linda “hostess” Burroughs for spearheading the summer BBQ, Jill “good times” Stone for maintaining a social calendar for us, and the new members for embarking on a journey of gifting. Tom “white lie”

Canfield was stripped of exempt status because it was discovered that he did not pay. Instead, Dan “absentee” Aldrich wins exempt status for the upcoming month. We intend to purchase 300 bricks for our veteran’s hall beautification project. We need you to help us reach our goal.

Detective: John “shake down” Burroughs came in dressed as Santa Claus. He began his detective report with Happy Dollars. Janet “#lifegoals” Gluch is happy she has a new grandchild, Bob “freedom” Bosso is happy he has free week nights now. Ian “just got richer” Mackenzie is happy his son finished college, Bill “rescue me” Schuette is happy to be saved from drowning by Sam “baywatch” Bishop. After all the happiness subsided, John began unloading both presents and wallets. He introduced us to a unique re-gifting program. In this program, one is given a chance to purchase the gift from Santa or ask a friend to purchase the gift instead. John promised to match all fines. Ian “white elephant” Mackenzie won a bucket, which he re-gifted to Wes “I don’t want it either” Walker. Debbie “what is this goo” McCarroll received a gift of soap and gifted it to Elizabeth “smile and look pretty” Clifton-Doolan. Kasey “I know how to be polite” Hinchman received a dish towel and kept it. Donna “I heart NY” Maurillo got an “I Love New York” hat that she also kept. Janet “not sharing” Gluch received a box of chocolate. While Jim “NUTS?!” Bargetto got a box of nuts. Cristian “there’s no I in team” Gonzales and Tom “awesome has me” Castillo received a million bucks which they gave to the needy. Finally Tanna “I deserve it” Widdows received a bottle of wine which she kept.

Program: It was our special Christmas program featuring Cantiamo! They are a well-regarded choir. They began with some traditional Christmas carols and then surprised us with a humorous song that highlighted several Rotarians. The performance was captivating. Looking throughout the room, every Rotarian was mesmerized by the many sounds being vocalized. If one shut their eyes you might mistake this choir for a band of musical instruments. As one might expect from such an experienced group, it was difficult to distinguish individual voices. The sound was polished and the singing impeccably in unison. There was power in their voices one could feel and see as the water in our cups vibrated to the music being presented.
