Jim Hart was raised in Santa Cruz, graduated from Harbor High and then attended the University of Nevada-Reno on a basketball scholarship, graduating in 1988. He was hired by the SC County Sheriff's department and has worked in a variety of assignments during his 26-year career. He was elected as the new sheriff in town last week. He has a lot to share with us as he inherits a new building and has proposed new programs for Santa Cruz County. A local boy who made good, he was the best basketball player to ever come out of Brook Knoll Elementary School and he may be the best sheriff to come out of that school too. Jim is married, has 4 children and lives in Scotts Valley.

Last Meeting

(Editor’s Note: I was out of town last Friday attending my 58th get together with my Stockton relatives at their Tahoe Vista cabin a few steps from lovely Lake Tahoe. Before I went I was grateful that Wes Walker and Erik Dybdahl agreed to take notes. So the following is Erik’s thoughts on the meeting with some minor revisions.)

Both Wes and I were able to take notes for Peter, today, but before the meeting started, Wes approached me and said he was busy taking care of some business so I assured him that I could cover. A few minutes later, guess who won the raffle? Wes Walker. Aleene introduced the AVID program counselor, Sherri Kilkanney, and then seven, 12 to 14 year olds introduced themselves and personally thanked the club for supporting their program. They went on four field trips to visit colleges and the defense language institute. This reporter apologizes for only remembering Avalon, as being among the students.

During the announcement phase of the meeting, Fred Gawlick got the microphone again and used several Rotarians to help him introduce the local Rotoractors, Jessie Case, Bradly Crehan, Bruce Gordon, Justin Blike, Angelique Aspacio, Leila Kazi, Bailey Duarte and Sandy Castillo. A couple of these youngsters put in over 40 hours of volunteer work. Leila has FBI aspirations. Fred could be a nightclub act, the way he works his way through the crowd...

Martin Bernal threw out the fishing nets into the audience for happy dollars and pulled in a boatload. This is a great time of year for graduations. For example: Donna’s son’s daughter got straight A’s, Martin’ daughter graduated USC, Chas Eldridge’s grandson was middle school valedictorian, and Jim Kelly’s ducky daughter graduated Oregon. Did I quack that right?

At my table, Bob Davidson was happy he bought a 96 unit apartment in Arkansas, and Sharon’s daughter is coming home from Thailand. Donna got a picture of Ritt with a dollar bill in his hand. I was busy taking notes, so I don’t know what happened to the dollar. And I kept getting confused with Martin’s questions, but I think Bob Rudolph said he remembered a snowfall in New England in 1816, (what was he, in the sixth grade?)

The program was on NextSTAGE Productions, by the current director, Lynn Knudsen. They used to be Stagebridge. Their focus is on involving mostly seniors in the performing arts. They ask the following questions of their students. What is your talent, that you haven’t taken time for yet? What is it that annoys you, or that you envy? What was your joy as a child?” When do you lose track of time, or what do you hate to stop doing?

These questions are posed in a psychiatric fashion to make us all want to do something to enhance our lives. I was thinking to myself, I never enjoyed writing as a child, I don’t write much now, and when I do, I’m always wanting to wrap it up quickly. I do not envy the Spokes Editors even though I have held that position a couple of times, what were you thinking? NextSTAGE provides theater camps for junior seniors (50+) and senior seniors (65+). They have touring troupes available for parties, etc. Call 722-5500 for booking arrangements.

Ms. Knudsen brought along one of her troupe performers, Shari Diego, a new student of Stagebridge (?), who, when met with the challenge of the audio not working, switched roles from a singer to a comedian, complete with a darling accent and the charming attitude of a sociopathic murderer.

Thanks for voting and reading the spokes, Erik.
