Board of Directors Meeting

Last Week's Meeting

It was dark, gloomy and overcast day for outside it was raining with a vengeance. Inside our youthful speakers would soon be raining inspiration upon our tables. My tablemates for the day, Jim Bargetto, Wes Walker, Wally Walker, Kevin Dempsey, Sid Slatter, John Keifer and Michelle Anderson offered friendly conversation about Bandon Dunes, house repairs, marriage and the weather. President Frank Minuti started the meeting with style as a new musical group played our old favorites, while Don Monroe recovers. Tom Foster did a great eulogy for his much beloved dog. Frank thanked Elizabeth Clifton for her work on the speech contest as she seized the reins again with this week's speech contest. The packed house listened as EC went over Rotary's list of "no's." No names would be used only letters. No cell phones, no flash photography, no clapping and no talking. Speaker A was first, as he wandered from the podium through the audience he offered his thoughts about what "Engaging Rotary - Changing Lives" meant to him. "I want to thank my mom. Everything I have started with them...my parents wanted a better life for their kids, so they came to the USA from Mexico." When he was done the room erupted into conversation, while EC asked us to "silence our conversation for the judges." Speaker B told a story about sea stars and that even if there were thousands of them dying on the beach, if you only threw one back you made a difference to that one. She closed with, "Rotary's efforts to eliminate polio is inspiring and a powerful force for good." Then Rotarians offered their "no" back to EC by forgetting their vow of silence.

Speaker C had to use Rotary's 4-way test while she was at Camp RYLA. They were asked to use it before they spoke or acted. She closed stating, "there was a change in me by being part of Rotary." With her finish the "vow of silence" was broken again, which means Rotarians would not make the best nuns or monks. Finally

EC revealed the names behind the letters. Finishing third was Speaker A, Miguel Fragosso, from Pajaro HS. Second was Speaker B, Anna Maxwell, from SLV HS and first was Speaker C, Reyna Escalante, from Harbor HS. EC thanked her helpers, Donna Maurillo, Fred Gawlick, Janet Krassow, Jane McKenzie, Jim Zenner, Larry Fogelquist, Richard Beach, Ross Condit, Thornton Kontz and Bob Bosso.

Jerry Todd Memorial

The next day the Elk's Club belonged to long time Rotarian Jerry Todd. He was there in spirit as many Rotarians offered amusing stories about his life and their interactions with him and his wife. As is often the case those that did things with Jerry while he was alive still keep him fondly in their hearts. I was privileged to get to know Jerry as the first elected President of Jerry's SC Sunrise Rotary Club.
