Detective - Annie Asche

Last Week’s Meeting

Last week was an example of teamwork and covering for your Rotary partner. Ian checked me in, he was covering the greeter station. Heather Stiles sold me my losing ticket with a promise of hollow words and a dazzling smile, for Thornton Kontz. Frank Minuti and John Huffman worked the RI Foundation duties (Frank helped Heather too). Anyway, it was a good show of cooperation.

Michael Sam and Hank played America the Beautiful and Annie Asche offered an excellent invocation. George Gallucci won the raffle prize provided by Thornton Kontz. The gift was wine and a gift certificate to Café Cruz.

Jim Zenner was the detective and he was like a Gatling Gun of fines; mowing down victims in droves, whole tables at time in fact. He fined people with an “Attitude of Gratitude” (See the odd spelling there?) for all the good things club members have done in support of clean water efforts. I’m pretty sure he was close to Dick Wilson’s all time detective effort.

Tom Criswell was our speaker and he spoke about Ugandan orphans and efforts there to educate them and provide for proper nutrition, clean water and hygiene to reduce sickness and disease. Tom’s program is supported primarily by his local church. They support 1200 orphans with annual financial gifts of about $160,000. Tom has great energy and a super positive attitude. His program was excellent.

Did you Know John Brokaw’s birthday is November 13

Board of Directors Meeting

The board met this past Wednesday (the 11th) at the Brokaws and we ate Greek food with American dessert. We also talked about the club and had a full agenda of member news, service news, new member proposals and other club “business”. Stay tuned for more news.

Want to Volunteer?

The club can always use new committee members and volunteers to work on all kinds of club issues. You’re qualified; talk to President Jim if you would like to get involved.

The face of winning!

Hey Look, Blaine’s at the beach trying to tan!
