Today's Program

The Silent Stars of Seabright: A Century of Exceptional Women

Writer/historian Traci Bliss shares the accomplishments of visionary women of yester-year—one of the themes in her new book Santa Cruz's Seabright. By 1900, civic-minded women had taken the lead in creating a cultural hub for Santa Cruz. Imagine a stunning branch library, a museum, Seabright Crafts Society and the Santa Cruz Art League all adjacent to one another on East Cliff Drive! And just across the street – an iconic Moorish Castle that was designed by a woman. Traci's book is available at the Santa Cruz Museum of Natural History and all proceeds go to support the Museum's educational programs

Announcements

10/27 – Rotary Club barbeque near Neptune’s Kingdom at the Boardwalk.

Last Week’s Highlights

Invocation: Karen Beeson reminded us who we should be. Let us be the calm...Let us bring the light of dawn...Let us be there for relief...Let us raise a voice for peace.

Raffle Winner: Tickets to the Santa Cruz Symphony were up for grabs. Fellow red badger Masi (mah-zee) Bayless was the winner. At the recent board meeting it was determined that anyone who pronounces her name incorrectly has to pay a $5 fine.

Detective Report: Bob Ciapponi focused his report on vacations now that summer is officially over for those of us with children still in school. In the end we learned that there are no bad vacations, some are just better than others.

Misc: Tom Castillo was presented with his blue badge! Red badges were becoming scarce with the explosive growth of our club, so they gave Tom his blue badge to free up a red badge.

Last Week’s Program

Keith Brandt was unable to attend last week and sent Assistant Vice Chancellor of University Relations Howard Heevner in his place.

Howard shared lots of fun facts. Here are just a few:

- UCSC rated 4th in the world for research influence
- 40% of UCSC population are 1st in family to go to college

- 19k alumni in Santa Cruz County
- $1.3 billion economic impact in Santa Cruz County
- Campus is using the same amount of water as it did in 1994
- Same amount of trips to campus as 16 years ago

Mr. Heevner also discussed at length the Long-Range Development Plan for UCSC. The plan is intended to guide the campus and city planning through 2040. It focuses on the use of the land for housing, classrooms and recreation. Visit irdp.ucsc.edu for updates.
