The New Rotary Year

President Maurillo will discuss her plans for the club and Jeanette Pagliaro will report back from the International Convention held in Australlia.

Programs - Blaine Brokaw

Invocation: Jeanette Pagliaro

Detective: Hank Olson

Benvenuto a tutti!

That means “welcome everyone!” As your new president, I plan to fill the year with fun, enjoyment, and enthusiasm. My plans include honoring people as Rotarian of the Month and giving special attention to Red Badges and prospective members. Ian has given me the massive “brain dump,” which took most of Saturday afternoon, so I’ve had my trial by fire. I hope to live up to the honor of this office and serve you well.

Donna Maurillo
President

Frank’s debunking was a gas

Last week’s meeting was one for the history books... but not for the auditing books. We gave President Fred... er, Frank... a sendoff that may get the attention of the IRS. Thanks to Bryan Williams for producing a video that had a terrific concept – that Frank was caught embezzling the Rotary funds and using them to woo a hot wife and live beyond his means.

Thanks to Wes Walker for playing the central role as Chief Detective on the case, but several other Rotarians showed their acting chops, as well. Michele Anderson had to be the cutest and funniest of the bunch, but everyone who sat on the “hot seat” testifying about Frank got in their jabs, as well. The video link is posted on the Rotary Club web site, so you can enjoy it as often as you like.

City Manager Martin Bernal read a Mayor’s Proclamation outlining Frank’s qualities (we’re using the term loosely) and declaring June 27 as Frank Minuti Day. That and a buck will get him a bus ride to Capitola.

As a going-away gift, Frank received a huge stuffed turtle to memorialize a special moment in Hawaii with his hot wife Terri.

Once she received her presidential pin, Donna pulled out a bouquet of red roses (for herself, not for Frank), plopped a sparkly tiara on her head, and gave a Miss America wave.

Out in the parking lot, Frank was overheard to say, “Terri, I promise. I’ve never embezzled a dime from the club.”

To which she supposedly replied, “It’s not the dimes I’m worried about, Frank.”

Father Joel, you’re up

Didn’t Father Joel look a little surprised at our last meeting when he was called for the invocation? He arrived at the lectern still holding his lunch plate.

Well, that’s what you get when the regular “invocator” isn’t present and you’re wearing a clerical collar. You become a really easy target.

Allan Dow’s door prize

The door prize winner received a nice gift from Allan Dow... who always has perfect attendance, by the way.

Thornton Kontz walked away with a gift certificate for dinner. However, when his winning number was called, he had to be reminded to go up and pick up his prize. Did he think he bought that winning ticket just so he could stand up and wave?

Board updates

With Bryan Williams regrettably having to step down from Junior Director duties (law school is getting in the way), past president Blaine Brokaw has stepped into the role. We know he’ll do a fine job. At least he already knows the ropes.

The board proposed – and membership unanimously approved – the installation of Bob Bosso to replace Blaine as a Junior Director for 2015-16. Bob has a long history as an involved guy, so the choice was easy to make and to approve.

The DG’s gift request

Each year, the District Governor asks for donations to a particular cause. Our new DG, Ed “R.U.” Jellen has asked us to collect teaching supplies for our local schools. We will present them at his visit to our club on Friday, August 8.

We asked local schools what teachers need most. The list came back loud and clear.

For the next few Fridays, please bring in dry-erase markers (the kind used on whiteboards), whiteboard erasers, disinfectant wipes (Clorox, Lysol, etc.), ballpoint pens, pencils, pads of lined paper, crayons, file folder labels, microfiber cleaning cloths, permanent markers (assorted colors), and PostIt notes. If you can’t shop, you can write a check made to Santa Cruz Rotary.

Lars is leaving

With regret, the Board has accepted the resignation of Lars Stokkebye who has been hired into a new job closer to his home in Monterey. Lars was assistant general manager of the Hotel Paradox.
